SUMMIT CHORAL SOCIETY: DRUMSING REGISTERING NOW

Summit Choral Society's (SCS) DrumSing program will once again be a pinnacle of entertainment at events throughout downtown Akron this summer! This innovative musical experience for high school and young adults (ages 14-24) combines traditional drumline with vocalizations.

DrumSing provides area youth a summer music pathway for expression, and is featured at the Akron Marathon, Pride Parade and as the opening performance group for PorchRockr! "I am very excited to work with the extremely talented team of musicians at Summit Choral Society. DrumSing is a great vehicle to highlight the young artists of the greater Akron community through drums. It's a unique ensemble in a genre all its own, drawing on skills in both percussion and vocals. Music ranges from modern drum corps to drumming styles from all over the world" says Matt Dudack, DrumSing program director. A complement to Summit Choral Society's current programming, which includes the nationally recognized, award-winning Children's Choir Program, sing with me (early childhood music) and Metropolitan Chorus, this musical program is influenced by traditional cadences, various pop & rock music with a multi-cultural flair.

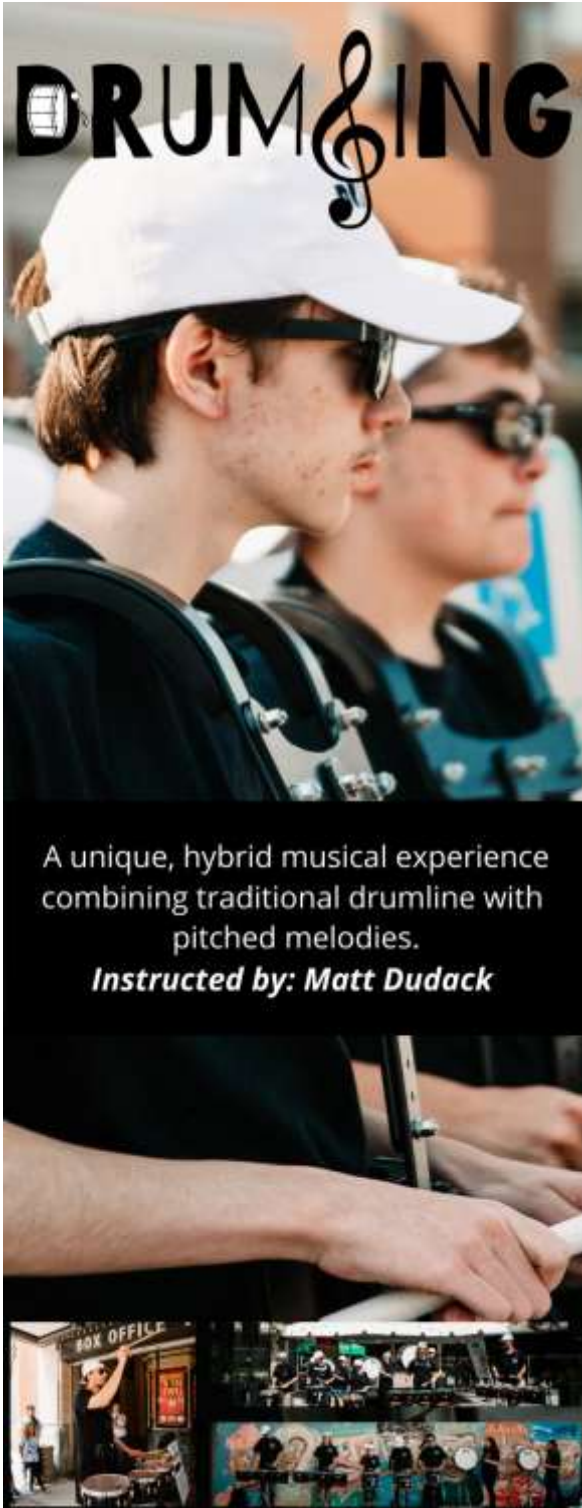

SCS is now registering for the summer season, which begins June 4th. Rehearsals take place at Summit Choral Society in downtown Akron on Saturday mornings with performances throughout downtown and the community this summer!
