

Julie is an accomplished musician with over five decades of experience in music education, performance, and accompaniment. She graduated from the University of Akron with a Bachelor of Science in Music Education, immediately embarking on a career in vocal music education at Revere Schools, where she taught for 8 years. Her passion for music also led her to serve as an organist and choir director in various churches throughout the region, a role she has held for over 50 years.

She has dedicated ten years as a staff accompanist to the UA School of Music and Dance Institute, showcasing her versatility and commitment to her craft. Currently, she serves as the accompanist for the St. Cecilia Chorus and numerous area high schools.

Julie resides in Akron with her husband and enjoys time with their five children and three grandchildren. Her dedication to music and education has fostered lasting connections within the community and continues to support the growth of local musicians and ensembles.
