

Sean Vollman currently serves as the Deputy Director of Economic Development at the City of Akron. Over his 21 year career at the City he has spent time as an Assistant Director of Law, Purchasing Agent and as Deputy Mayor for Economic Development. Prior to joining the City, he worked in private practice at Buckingham, Doolittle and Burroughs.

Vollman's family moved to Akron in 1976 and he attended St. Vincent- St. Mary High School. Vollman received his bachelor's degree in American Government from Georgetown University and received his Juris Doctorate from the Ohio State University Moritz College of Law.

Vollman serves on the boards of the Downtown Special Improvement District, the Downtown Real Estate Development Corporation, and ConxusNEO. Vollman has previously served on the Board of Trustees of Mobile Meals and Weathervane Playhouse. In connection with his role with the City of Akron and also served as the Chairperson of the Urban Neighborhood Development Corporation. He is a current member of Leadership Akron Class 40.

Vollman resides in Akron with his wife and two daughters. A lifelong theatre fan, he made his onstage debut in 2022 as Theodore Roosevelt in Newsies and was most recently seen in Elf at Weathervane Playhouse.